The JLPT (Japanese Language Proficiency Test) is a standardized test that measures your proficiency in the Japanese language. The test is divided into five levels, with N5 being the most basic and N1 being the most advanced.

The JLPT Level N4 exam is designed for students who have completed approximately 120 hours of Japanese language study. The exam covers a variety of topics, including vocabulary, grammar, reading, and listening.

One of the most important aspects of the JLPT Level N4 exam is the kanji section. Kanji are Chinese characters that are used in the Japanese writing system. There are thousands of kanji, but only a few hundred are required for everyday use.

The JLPT Level N4 exam tests your ability to read and write 100 basic kanji. These kanji are essential for understanding Japanese text and communication.

If you are serious about learning Japanese, then taking the JLPT Level N4 exam is a great way to test your progress and improve your skills.
